

EMBODIED AWARENESS

7 - 11 September 2020

In the workshop we are focusing on different methods how to identify new layers of understanding - how to embody a movement within a dancer

A workshop in collaboration between Dansalliansen and Danscentrum Syd

The class of Helena Franzén is release based and the focus is on the body and the possibilities of movement within everyone. Floor work and inspirations of yoga help us to find the center, the flexibility and the ease.

During the class we pay attention to different qualities of movements, musicality, precision and presence.

The warmup is a preparation to a longer phrase material where we play with different ways of exploring the dynamics, the spatial awareness, and the musicality. Spatial and physical challenges are all a part of the joy of moving together!

In the workshop we are focusing on different methods how to identify new layers of understanding-how to embody a movement within a dancer...

We ask questions how to trace the imaginative, spacious and energy- filled body.

How does the movement material speak to our sensory body?

In the practice we embrace details in qualities, how to take charge and finally how to give in to the sensory intelligence provided by the body as a whole.

A tribute to pure delight of the dancing body!
