

MASTER CLASS

13 jun 2025

Alma Söderberg invites participants to immerse themselves in the essence of her artistry — a unique fusion of voice, body, music and dance.

The Master Class is given in conjunction with Alma Söderberg visiting MDT Moderna Dansteatern with the performance Infinétude in June at the festival Lustholme.

Alma Söderberg is a choreographer and performer that works with music and dance. She uses her voice and body to play space as if it was an instrument. Her ongoing research deals with how we listen as we look; the relation between the ear and the eye.

She has grounded her practice in a number of solo performances in which she developed an idiorhythmic way of creating. In the two ongoing musicprojects wowawiwa and John the Houseband, she has worked in collaboration with the other artists Anja Muller, Dennis Deter, Hendrik Willekens, Roger Sala Reyner and Melkorka Sigridur Magnusdottir. In all her works she collaborates closely with the sound artist Hendrik Willekens. Alma Söderberg has won the Thalia Prize and has been granted the Cullberg scholarship."

The workshop is in collaboration between Dansalliansen and MDT
